

iGov BPM StarterKit

Public Administration's simple Entry into Process Management

The documentation of services and processes is the technical foundation and key requirement for "networked public administrations". In Netcetera and its partner BOC, proven experts provide you with a pragmatic entry into an eCH-compliant organisation, documentation and process sequence. Our services:

- Accompanied introduction and training for your project and process managers (BPMN method)
- Easy-to-use and powerful tool Adonis Standalone Full Version 4.0
- Prepared eGovernment process structure
- Professional review of your initial work
- Access to the eGov process portal (community)

In cooperation with

www.boc-group.com

The BOC Group is the technology leader in the area of IT-based management tools. Amongst other things, it provides the Adonis tool kit for business process management and the ADOit tool kit for IT, architecture and service management.

The Challenge

The Swiss e-government strategy defines three objectives:

- Businesses use electronic options for their interaction with public administration.
- The authorities have upgraded their business processes and communicate electronically with one another.
- The population can process frequent or laborious transactions with the authorities directly via electronic channels.

To achieve these objectives, public services and processes must be systematically documented in a standard way during business process management.

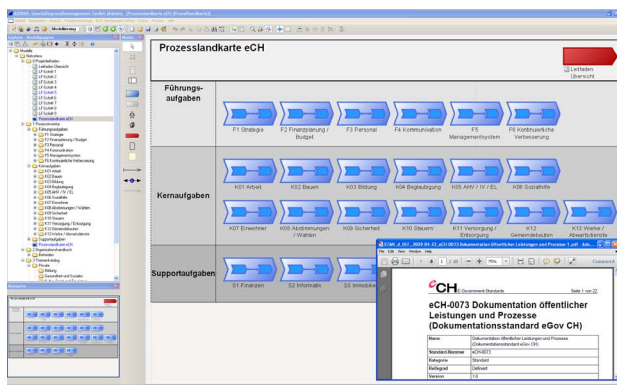

The Solution

Process documentation creates common expertise. We support you in every respect efficiently and individually in the creation of your documentation. The iGov BPM StarterKit supplies you with the following services:

- Introduction to process management according to eCH standards
- Installation and brief training for the Adonis process management tool
- Single Adonis 4.0 licence, including eCH StarterKit, sample processes and documentation
- Review of your initial work as part of subsequent refresher training
- Access to the community platform eGov process portal prozess-portal.ch

Your Benefits with the iGov BPM StarterKit

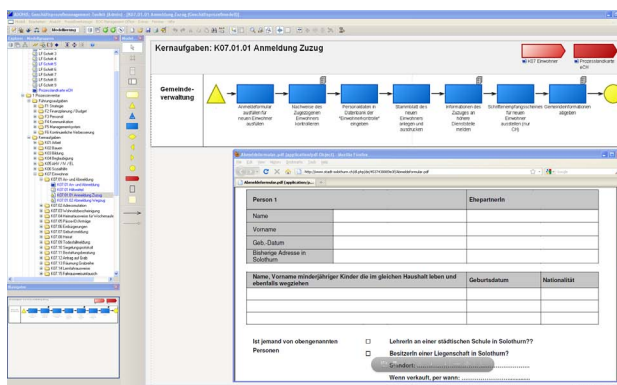

- Practical introduction to process management by experts
- Ready to start: all tools installed at your end and you are given access to all bases and documents
- Quick entry into the process world thanks to an integrated eCH project guideline
- The seamless transition from documentation to operational handling of processing (workflow systems) is guaranteed
- You exchange experience with proven experts
- Everything is eCH standard compliant and tried and tested
- Cost-effective entry
- Fixed price: CHF 9,750, excl. VAT

Process map eCH StarterKit with document

The iGov BPM StarterKit contains all elements according to the eCH-0096 BPM Starter Kit.

Sample process eCH StarterKit with sample form